New Combination of Pioneer Producers To Be Big Factor In Film Future

One of the observant critics of general trend of motion pictures has declared that the future of the business depends much on the manner in which the pioneers in the film field readjust their systems of distribution and production to meet the competition that has been developed through the organization of so many

With the utilization of the facilities the regular companies have for the production of features of a high order, it is believed that they will be able to set a standard of production which will compel the feature concerns to raise even their present high standard. Some such idea must have actuated the heads of the Vitagraph, Lubin, Selig, and Essanay forces when they organized their new distributing feature system under the title of "V.-L.-S.-E.," by means of which the more ambitious productions of this quartet are to be placed directly in the hands of the exhibitors without the intermediate handling through the Gen-mediate handing through the General Film exchanges.

As the regular feature releases of these companies are of a high order, it stands to reason that they each contemplate exceptional pictures in their new program. The system of releasing them will be similar to that which has been followed by other larger concerns the which has been followed by other larger concerns, the restriction of the pictures to one exhibitor in each city for a certain period.

In this city arrangement has just been completed by Manager Tom Moore, of the Garden and Strand Theaters, for the first showing of the new comparisons pictures of the new organization's pictures at his theaters, to begin tomorrow with Lubin's production of Edwin Arden in "Eagle's Nest" and to have full force the week of May 16 when Francis Bushman and Albert Roscoe—the Poli Players' leading man—in Essanay's "Graustark" and the big Essanay's "Graustark" and the big Vitagraph feature, "The Juggernaut," with Anita Stewart and Earle Wil-liams, are produced. Following these will come the regular releases of the "V.-la-S.-E." program from week to week.

These releases, by the way, constitute quite a large order, so far as motion pictures are concerned, com-bining as they do the best-known motion picture stars with stage cele-brities, as, for instance: Rose Coghlan and Ethel Clayton brities, as, for instance:

Rose Coghlan and Ethel Clayton in "The Sporting Duchess," by Cecil Raleigh, Viola Allen, in her greatest success, "The White Sister:" Robert Edeson in "The Caveman," by Gillet Burgess; Tyrone Power in "The Texas Steer," by Charles Hoyt; Frank Danlels in "Crooky Scrugge," by Paul West; Charles Richman in "The Heights of Hazard," by Cyrus Townsend Brady; Harold McGrath's "The Carpet From Bagdad," with Charles Cherry, Katherine Williams and Wheeler Oakman; Tyrone Power in "The Servant In the House;" De Wolfe Hopper in picturized comic operas; Marie Dressler in "Topsy Turvy;" Harry Mestayer in "The Millionaire Baby," by Anna Katherine Green; "The Valley of Lost Hope," by Shannon Fife with Romaine Fielding; H. C. Charfield-Taylor's "The Crimson Wing," with E. H. Calvert and Beverly Bayne; "The Climbers," by Clyde Fitch, and many others.

A few months ago Allen A Campbell, an efficiency engineer, moved to Cincinnati to take a position with the Union Gas and Electric Company of that city.

His wife remained in New York, but subsequently disappeared. Now he has discovered, through the "Mutual Weekly" that she is in Europe as a Red Cross nurse. A special run of the weekly was made for Mr. Campbell in order to study the scene which showed her leaving the French liner "La Lorraine" with a party of nurses.

The Western Import Company is now co-operating with Mr. Campbell and will seek to locate the missing woman through its extensive European organization.
